How To Be A Family That Serves

Service becomes a natural part of a family culture by simply seeing a need and meeting a need.

Create A Balance

Balancing time is one of the more difficult tasks in family life. Service requires time. Making service a priority may mean that adjustments need to be made but the rewards will be great. Remember, also, a lot of service require a simple quick response.

Be Creative

When your family sees a need ask them for ideas. You just might be surprised at the ideas your children come up with when given chance,

Service as a way of life.

Serving is more about who we are, not what we do. When we train our children to "see a need, meet a need" it molds their character into being Christ-like. We create a spirit of intention in their hearts.

Plan as a Family.

Planning for the larger service involvement tasks takes time, so plan in advance. You may be surprised what your family will make as a priority.

Celebrate

Celebrate your family's act of service...for what it is... an act of Bringing Jesus!
